Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

A.L.O.H.A from Boiling Springs Intermediate School where all students attained levels of higher achievement during the 2009-2010 school year. Boiling Springs Intermediate School “surfing to high tides” as demonstrated by our ongoing, continuous improvement. This success was a result of our teachers who went the extra mile to implement new strategies that reached the needs of all students and made learning relevant and enjoyable. Our well trained professional and dedicated staff worked diligently to provide every child with academic experiences that extended beyond the classroom, so that our students achieved their fullest potential. We cruised the seas with our continued implementation of single-gender classes in 5th grade, a strong focus to our uniquely tailored standards-based assessments, and through celebrating our students’ impressive successes and achievements.

Our 5th grade single gender program had an overwhelming response during the previous school year, which brought much growth. This year, the program more than tripled in participation, growing from 4 to 14 classes. The students and parents were surveyed based on indicators of their perception of the program and the effect the program had on overall achievement. Ninety-four percent of the students agreed at 80% and above that the single-gender program had a positive effect. One hundred percent of the parents conferred, at 86% and above, believing that the program was beneficial to their child’s education.

A focus on assessments allowed our teachers to create distinctively customized assessments based on the state’s unwrapped standards. The students were taught and assessed at an advanced level. The assessments provided students with a proficient foundation and opportunity to excel on PASS.

Our students made waves this year with abundant successes. Ten students received scholarships to participate in the Spartanburg Junior Writing Project at USC-Upstate. Several students were recognized by receiving the Governor’s Citizenship Award, Terrific Kid of the Year Award, and Spelling Bee Finalist Award. Numerous students won local and state writing and art contests, with some being published. Our students surfed to high tides this year.
